Wurzeln und Wege kultureller Vielfalt Roots and Roads of Cultural Diversity

Europe's cultural diversity is unique all over the world. Young people from France, Romania, Italy, and Germany will be working with this uniqueness. You are fond of dancing and music. You will develop a unique "Dance of Europe" from the dances of your countries, will attribute a political meaning to it, and will perform it on a brand new stage in the Bavarian Forest.

From your region's sounds you will compose your European song. An internationally experienced dancing teacher, a musical cultural affairs officer, and media specialists will instruct you. The encounter will take place in the recently inaugurated Folk Music Academy in Freyung from 16 to 27 September 2019.

WORKSHOPS

BODY AS VOICE (modern free dance)

Dancing allows talking with the body in a high status of awareness. It offers innumerable possibilities of expressing non-verbally in an unusual manner. The workshop invites you to gain confidence in your individual impulses and to make them visible. Uncoupled from intellectual guidance your personal momentum will develop. Everybody is welcome – with playful fondness of experimenting, childlike joy of motion, humorous easiness and innocent curiosity.

MOBILE CLIP

Become acquainted with the creative possibilities of smart phones and tablets. In this workshop you will be introduced to film practice: Design tips and technical tips will show you how to record activities as good as possible. You will experiment with the fundamentals of video processing and will obtain legal information.

BEATS AND MUSIC with tablet & Co.

Music in former times and today! How has the access to music and dance changed with globalisation and digitalisation? Smartphones and tablets are creative all-rounders and are meanwhile offering many ways of combining music and media formation. Music apps convert the devices to instruments by means of which any (un)imaginable tones, sounds and rhythms may be produced.

Apart from the workshops, visiting a high ropes course, playing football, singing and making music as well as discussions and country evenings are on the programme.
